In Memoriam

It was with deepest regret that we learned of the sudden death of our beloved librarian. For 22 years she had carried on her work in the high school where she was loved and respected by both the faculty and the pupils. Her presence will be missed by all who knew her.

Jane E. Thuman

Foreword

Our thanks and appreciation go to the staff of the Crimson Log. It was they who kept the record of our long voyage so successfully in spite of rising costs and deadlines.

To Miss Brady we are most grateful. She was the one who helped us hold true to the course.

We have endeavored to capture the memories of our four years' voyage in N. B. H. S. in the following pages. Our only hope is that when you glance through them in the future, you will regain glimpses of a cruise such as we will never go on again.

Social Guidance Counselor

Anna M. Brady

The office of the Social Counselor, Room 128, was busy all year with the hustle and bustle of Class Book, Senior parties, prom, and banquet. Although it was Miss Brady's first year in this capacity, she did a remarkable job, and our Class Book would not be complete without a word of gratitude and appreciation. It is hoped that in the years to come, other classes will realize how fortunate we and they were to have her as our Counselor.

Bottom Right: Dolores Correia, Betsey Berg, Norman Araujo, Jean Cleary.

For the twenty-third year, the Honor Society has shown recognition to students with outstanding qualities of leadership, scholarship, service, and character. At a special assembly in November, new members were inducted. The society, with its eighty-four members, has given many an incentive to do better in their work.

THE CRIMSON COURIER

"Forsan et Haec Olim Meminisse iuvabit"---Virgil's Aeneid I 203

The Crimson Courier lives up to the promise in its motto. The social events, the various activities of clubs, the important football and basketball games, and, of course, the "Grapevine" will all bring back pleasant memories some day. The writing staff gains great experience in style, in exactness, and in meeting people. The business department will certainly be able to use the knowledge that it has acquired later on. As for the executive staff, well, they must have a good idea of the problems of running a newspaper. The Courier has become traditional at New Bedford High School. It has a high standard which each new staff strives to uphold.

Congratulations to the Student Council of 1950-51 for the fine job it has done in making N. B. H. S. a better school. Under the officers — Gilbert Portnoy, president; Ronald Fryer, vice-president; Beverly Gerstein, secretary; and Betsey Berg, treasurer — the organization has done much to encourage school spirit and to extend the fame of our school.

One of the Council's notable achievements was the sponsoring of Student Government Day for the first time in N. B. H. S. On that day, students became teachers and found out for themselves what it was like on the other side of the desk. The Council also sponsored the Community Chest Drive in which Dolores Correia was elected "Miss Red Feather".

Members of the Student Council attended many area conventions at which they were ably represented by George Jacobs, president of the Southeastern Branch of Associated Bodies of Student Councils of Massachusetts.

SHE CERTAINLY HAS FALLEN FOR THE STUDENT COUNCIL PRODUCTS

N.B.H.S. BAND

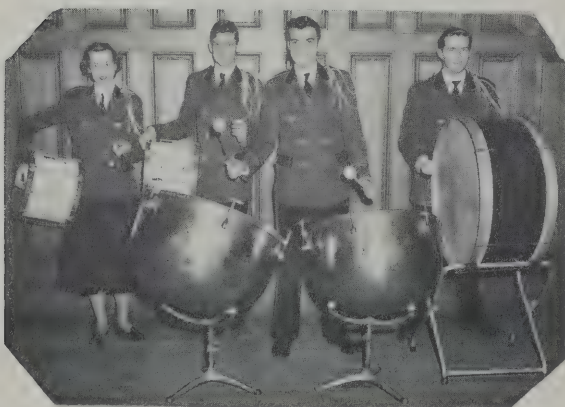

The band, under the very capable direction of Mr. Clarence W. Arey, has added much color to our football games, parades, civic assemblies, and auditorium periods. Besides this, the organization has always been highly praised for its excellent performances at the festivals.

The Tennis Club

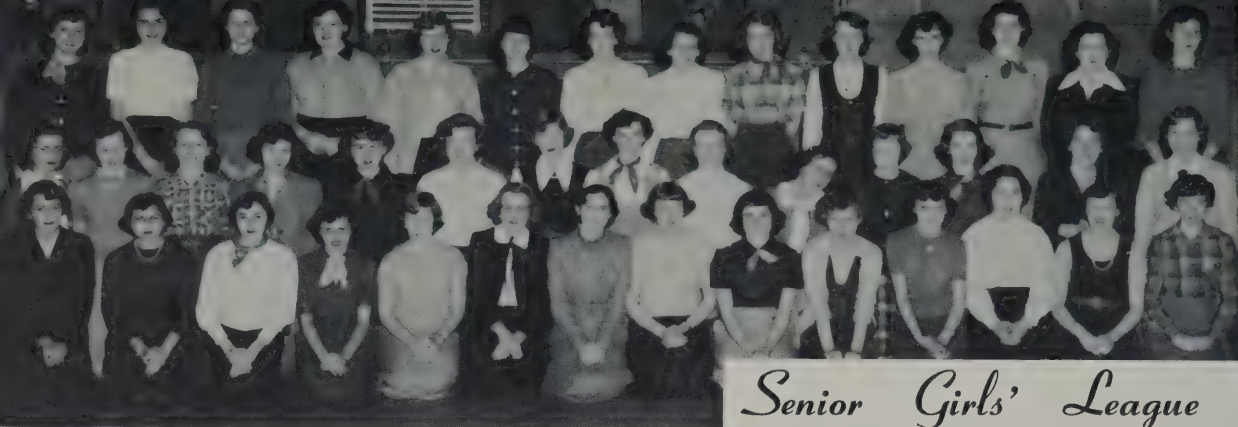

This club has a two-fold purpose. Primarily, it is for instruction in playing tennis. Also it is for the tennis team to continue its activities in the winter. The officers were: Adrien Auger, president; Richard Gleckman, secretary; and Evelyn Ann Barrows, treasurer.

Senior Girls' League

First Row: Beverly Gerstein, Ruth Robinson, Mildred Portnoy, Beverly Mosettig, Faye Siegel, Clara Kingman, Eleanor Goldstein, Patricia Tresham, Annemarie O'Leary, Margaret Travers, Madeline England, Margaret Francis, Elizabeth Pacheco, Joyce Pimental.

Third Row: Irma Stern, Helen Chambers, Barbara Tripp, Claire Rollins, Alice Halliwell, Roberta Sevigny, Marjory Greaves, Eleanor Walker, Patience Write, Evelyn-Ann Barrows, Joan Wunschel, Janice McIntosh, Madeleine Caron, Eleanor Martin.

The Girls' Welfare League is divided into a junior and a senior section. Freshmen and sophomores make up the former, while upperclassmen comprise the membership of the latter. Meetings are held weekly. The social counselor is adviser to both groups.

The two leagues alternate in going to the City Mission on Friday afternoons to entertain the children there. They also share the project of making tray-favors for St. Luke's Hospital for each holiday. Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for the less fortunate were two of this year's undertakings, as well as a Senior League contribution to the Community Chest and a Junior League project of scrap books and rag dolls for hospitalized children. Senior leaguers each year volunteer to give up study periods to serve at the Hostess Table in the front lobby, to greet visitors to the school and to do errands for teachers and office staff. Many also help in the school library. Working on committees for picnics, informal Christmas and Valentine dances, a tea for faculty and mothers of club members, and the Cotton Ball helped senior leaguers to become better acquainted. The Junior group met for an informal Christmas party at which gifts were exchanged, and held a spring picnic.

Officers for 1950-1951 were as follows: Senior League president, Elizabeth Milliken; vice-president, Jean Cleary; secretary, Beverly Gerstein; treasurer, Eleanor Martin; committee chairmen, Janice McIntosh, (welfare); Barbara Tripp, (membership); Beverly Travers, (hostess table); Annmarie O'Leary, (library); and Marjorie Greaves, (social).

Junior League president, Phyllis Zais; secretary, Sheila Cohen; treasurer, Ingely Hansmann; welfare committee chairman, Madeline Travers.

Parlez-vous francais? The happy group above meets every Thursday under the guidance of Miss Begin, faculty adviser, to learn about France, its customs, history, and, incidentally, to learn more of the French language. Officers this year are Barbara Horvitz, president; and Estelle Shuster, secretary-treasurer.

Portuguese Pan-American Club

The Portuguese Pan-American Club was organized by the Portuguese classes of 1945. The 1950-1951 officers of the club were: Elsie Souza, president; Albertina Camara, vice-president; Zolmira Camacho, treasurer; Joseph Correia, assistant treasurer; Dolores Machado, secretary; and Norma Madeira, assistant secretary.

The club has carried on a successful stamp project for two years; used stamps of all types are sent to a mission in Portugal which sells them all over the world and uses the proceeds to help the mission. Last November the members presented a most successful minstrel show to raise funds for carrying on club activities. Under the supervision of Miss Laurinda Andrade, the club entered whole heartedly into the project; Joseph Correia, Celia Freitas, Delores Machado, and Helen Miguel acted as chairmen of the various committees for the event.

The Debating Society

The Alpha Debating Society is one of the oldest organizations in the school. Its records date back to 1924, though it was probably in existence even before then. The constitution drawn up at its beginning is still in use.

The objects of the society are to furnish training in public speaking and debating, develop poise, and help students gain practice in the organization of ideas and the analysis of contemporary problems. All members take part in various types of inter-club debates and round-table forums. Additional activities of the group are the Varsity and Junior Varsity Debating Teams which are entered in the Narragansett Interscholastic Debating League. Eight debates were scheduled for this year. Alan Novick, varsity team captain, and Harris Weinstein participated in the club's first three league debates with Rogers High School of Newport, East Providence High School, and Aldrich High School of Lakewood, R. I. New Bedford won unanimous decisions over Rogers' and Aldrich, and lost by a split decision to East Providence.

The Debating Society was in charge of the auditorium on March 2, Student Government Day. A panel of students discussed problems submitted by students and teachers. Those taking part were George Jacobs, Elizabeth Milliken, Betty Pacheco, Donald Martins, Joyce Pimental, Eleanor Azevedo, Joan Alfonso, Bruce Lennon, Daniel Gillis, and Janice Fournier. Alan Novick moderated.

The 1950-'51 officers of the society were Alan Novick, president; Harris Weinstein, vice-president; Robert Shapiro, treasurer; Madeline Travers, recording secretary; Eleanor Azevedo, corresponding secretary. Alan was also captain of the debating team.

The Student Court

The Student Court works in cooperation with the Traffic Squad to enforce rules of the school as laid down by the Student Council and the Principal. The Court consists of ten members whom the Principal appoints. The officers in our senior year were: Paul Forand, Chief Justice; David White, prosecuting attorney; Harris Weinstein, defense counsel; Janice McIntosh, probation officer; Madeline England, secretary; Doris Glaser, clerk; and Jean Cleary, Norman Araujo, Bruce Dalzell, Robert Haney and Dennis Sanidas, jury members.

The Traffic Squad

The Traffic Squad is an all-student organization whose main goal is to maintain order in the school. In punishing violators of the school rules, it acts in conjunction with the Student Court. Any student receiving a traffic ticket must appear in Student Court where he is fairly tried and given due punishment.

David White, 1950-1951 Chief of the Traffic Squad, was assisted by Harvey Michelson and George Roberts, under whose leadership for the first time the R. O. T. C. assisted the Traffic Squad by supplying some members.

School Savings Organization

The purpose of the School Savings Organization is to encourage thrift among the students by promoting the sale of savings bonds and stamps. The office is in Room 128.

William Etchells is the chairman of the organization and Margaret-Mary Gunning is secretary-treasurer.

Each home room is represented on the staff by one salesman.

American Junior Red Cross

Membership in the Junior Red Cross is comprised of representatives from each home room who attend the meetings, then report back to their classmates. The organization conducts the annual Red Cross drive and takes charge of other drives in the school, such as those for the March of Dimes and Heart Fund. Christmas cards by the hundreds are adapted for use by veterans in hospitals, and gift boxes sent to the veterans at Christmas.

The officers for this year were Maxine Claskey, president; Inez Francis, vice president; Anthony Gracia, secretary, and Joyce Pimental, treasurer.

Stamp Club

The Stamp Club is now entering its second year. Members held their first annual exhibit in November of 1950. The organization is not only for students who collect stamps, but also for those who would like to start a collection. Meetings are held once a week and are mainly devoted to the trading and selling of all kinds of stamps. Mrs. Kontanis is club adviser.

Boys' Leaders' Club

The Boys' Leaders Club is composed of five or six boys from each gym class, elected by their classmates. They attend meetings every Friday to plan the work of the gym classes for the following week. There are no officers in this club. Toward the end of the club period, when the work has been planned and practiced, the boys engage in a basketball game and record the score. The club is disbanded in the spring.

Choral Activities

The choral groups of New Bedford High spend rehearsal after rehearsal preparing for auditorium programs, the spring concert, Music Week, and the Music Festival in spring. They enjoy singing, and their efforts have given the school a reputation for good music. Under Miss Janet Ratcliffe's direction, the choruses presented their third annual concert in April. With the help of the Dramatic Club, the groups portrayed American folk music along with a complete choral concert of songs ranging from religious to popular. The school's musical rating is high. May it achieve even greater heights in years to come.

Allied Youth

One of the newer clubs of the school, Allied Youth received its charter at a special assembly in October, 1950. Under the leadership of Robert Watkins, president, and Mr. Trafton, faculty adviser, the group is "searching for the truth concerning the use of alcoholic beverages." N. B. H. S. is glad to welcome Allied Youth to its ranks and wishes it continued success.

Square Dance Club

In the fall of 1950, a half-dozen enterprising, young enthusiasts originated a square dance club for the first time in the school's history. Permission to have the use of the girls' gym on occasional Monday nights was obtained. Due to the tremendous number of applicants, membership had to be restricted to juniors and seniors.

The purpose of the club is to teach the fundamentals of square dancing to as many interested individuals as possible. Instruction has been given by Mr. Charles Dexter, veteran dance caller; Miss Lillian B. Ross, the club's faculty adviser; and by Warren Sterns, Adrien Auger, and other club members.

Dramatic Club

The Dramatic Club offers an excellent opportunity to students interested in dramatics, play-writing, stage direction, and stage architecture. Members of the club have performed at club meetings, and have presented plays during the auditorium periods.

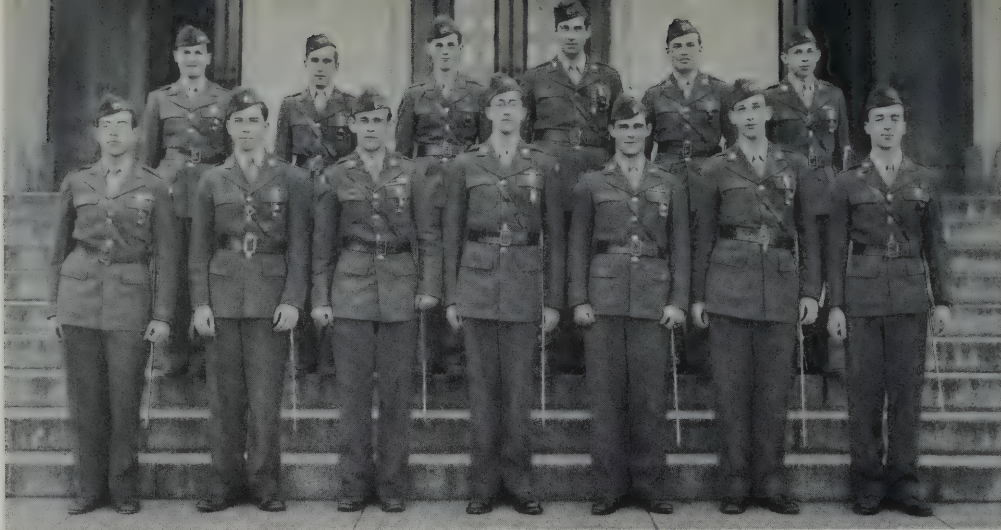

The annual Spring Play, which this year was "The Family Circle" is the culmination of the club's activities, and is always looked forward to in pleasure and anticipation.

Reserve Officers Training Corps

The Reserve Officers Training Corps unit in New Bedford High School is an outstanding example of the great spirit of America and the American way of life. The mission of the Junior Division, R.O.T.C., is to lay the foundation of intelligent citizenship within the student and give him such basic training as will be of benefit and value.

The Corps sponsors colorful and outstanding social events during the school year, the two outstanding being, the Annual Military Drill and Ball in December, and R.O.T.C. Officers Ball in June.

We are proud of the cadet corps and the marvelous tradition it has upheld since its establishment in March of 1881.

The Gams also sponsor the GAMS' Ball, a successful social affair, every year. At this event, a competitive drill between prize squads representing the three companies in the battalion is held.

FOOTBALL

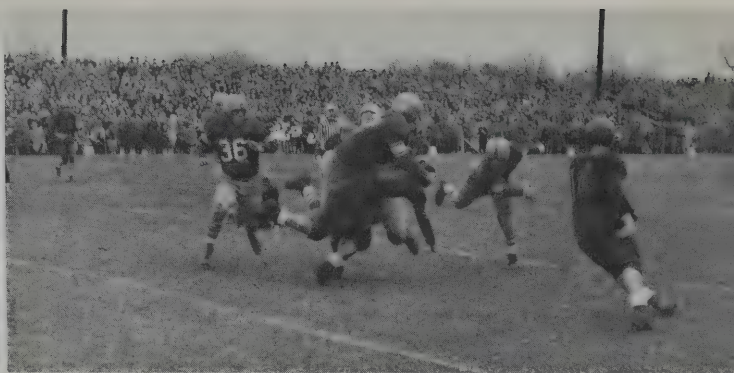

Again the Crimson took to the gridiron to uphold its prestige for the 1950 season. Because of the resignation of "Win" Dodge and Charles Tsouprake, Amos G. Taylor Jr. and his assistant, Jack Cronin, became the new mentors of the team.

The squad faced its toughest schedule in the history of the school. In the season's opener, the team suffered a 6-0 defeat by Providence Central, but bounced back to a victory over Hope High of Providence 37-0. The next five tilts proved to be too much for the inexperienced squad, which lost to Quincy 14-13, to Malden Catholic 20-0, to Rindge Tech of Cambridge 34-6, to St. Raphael of Pawtucket 7-6, and to Springfield Cathedral 20-14.

New Bedford's traditional rivals, Fairhaven and Voke, intended to revenge the one-sided slaughters which they received last year. In the Fairhaven battle, New Bedford won 13-0. In a closely fought contest, Voke was nipped 7-6. With a much improved eleven, the squad went into the Turkey Day game with Durfee as a two-touchdown underdog, but emerged triumphantly with a 12-6 victory.

Although the team's rating was very low in the state competition, the eleven did capture the City Championship and won even greater honor by being named the undisputed Bristol County Champions.

A factor in gaining these titles was the great all-around playing of the hard-plunging Bobby "Da-Da" Watkins. For the second consecutive year, Bobby made the first All-State team. He also, for his third straight year, made the first All-Bristol County eleven, along with Bill Etchells and Joe Dubiel.

BASKETBALL

New Bedford High School's basketball team, under the coaching of a new mentor, Jack Cronin, enjoyed a fairly successful campaign this '50-'51 season. Mr. Cronin, who replaced Win Dodge as head basketball coach, inherited players who had comparatively little experience but he managed to get the team to fight hard and flash a good brand of ball occasionally.

Jerry Cofield, the elongated center, carried a good share of the scoring punch, with considerable help from Dave Lammers, Norm Nickerson, Billy Dandrea, Ed Moriarty, and Len Calderbank. John Brennan, a highly promising sophomore, missed several games because of a troublesome ankle injury but provided spark and steady scoring when able to play. Henry O'Brien and Don O'Malley rounded out the varsity, and they too, showed signs of good basketball.

The aforementioned Nickerson is the only player who will not return when the next season commences, as he is a member of the graduating class of 1951.

New Bedford's overall record stood at 8 won and 12 lost. However, its Bristol County League record was 5 won and 5 lost, so they actually didn't fare too badly.

BASEBALL

New Bedford's fortunes in baseball during the past few years have not been very good; nevertheless, she has produced many outstanding performers on the diamond.

Among these players is Norm Nickerson, a varsity player for four years. Norm has been the Crimson 1st baseman most of the time he has played. A dependable hitter and a good fielder, Norm is one of the standouts in the Crimson infield.

One of the best schoolboy catchers in years is Fred Ward. Fred also plays right field when not catching, and is one of the most powerful hitters on the team. He has made quite a few extra-base hits against Bristol County League foes.

Bobby Watkins, a Crimson football immortal, is also a good outfielder. Like Ward, Watkins is a power hitter. Last year he was hampered by a shoulder injury which kept him out of action much of the time.

Fran Worden, a dependable pitcher, was one of the mainstays of the Crimson mound staff this year. Fran can be counted on for the tough games.

"Skippy" Levow, the New Bedford shortstop, is one of the better fielders in Bristol County. Robbing the opponents of basehits is one of his favorite pastimes. "Skippy" also can come through with a hit when one is needed.

THE SOCCER TEAM

For the first time since the middle 1930's, New Bedford High School was represented in this area by a soccer team. While this year's team did not exactly live up to the standards of those set so many years ago, it did all right when one considers its opponents and the general inexperience of the players. Its record of 1 win, 1 tie, and 5 losses does not seem too impressive until one gets down to the details of the story.

The first game was lost to Tabor Academy of Marion by the score of 2 to 0. However, the Crimson showed promise of much better things as they gained experience. The second game, which was against Diman Voke of Fall River, was also lost, this time by a score of 3 to 1. This was not surprising, when one considers that Diman has been fielding a team of experienced players for years. Another game with Tabor was tied 1 to 1 in the best showing of the season to that date. New Bedford Voke, which has claimed the State Championship for two consecutive years, lowered the Crimson hopes by the score of 3 to 0. Then at last came the only win of the season. New Bedford came out over Duxbury High by the narrow squeak of 1 to 0. In another game with Diman Voke the score was also 3 to 1 in favor of Fall River. Then came the final game of the season, which was another one with New Bedford Voke. However, Voke's experience and depth again proved too much for the undermanned Crimson who went down fighting to the tune of 4 to 1.

Hopes for the next year are high, since only three players are in the graduating class. The experience gained by the other boys will probably prove invaluable to them next year, when they will, in all probability, come in with a much better season.

TENNIS

Tennis reached a high peak at N. B. H. S. this year. The boys' team was undefeated during the first half of our senior year, beating Durfee, Tabor, Country Day of Providence, and LaSalle Academy.

The girls' team, undefeated since its formation three years ago, is under the guiding hands of Mr. Bonner and Mr. Bergstrom. Mr. Roland Auger also has given much valuable instruction to both teams.

GIRLS' SPORTS

This past year, N. B. H. S. has offered varied types of sports for girls. In basketball, the record for the season was two wins and six losses. Because of injuries sustained in playing, the varsity squad was limited to seven practically all season. With the second team winning five out of eight games, and with many of this year's players still available for next year, the prospects for the 1951-'52 season should be brighter.

Badminton, shuffle-board, and volley-ball were enjoyed during winter months. A group of thirty-four swam at the Y. W. C. A. after school each week, under Miss McFadden's supervision. In the spring, tennis and softball brought many girls out to Buttonwood. With all these activities, the girls of N. B. H. S. have a chance to develop their physical, as well as mental abilities.

Class History

1947 - 48

September, 1947! Ah yes — the month we set forth on the first quarter of our four year voyage! We were assigned to our cabins and were given the layout of our ship.

On the first leg of our voyage, after we landlubbers had become experienced crew members, we elected our Skipper — Gloria Phipps, First Mate — John Halloran, Yeoman — Joyce Palmer, and Purser — Jane Cooper. Our Engine Room Crew included Polly Ann Cotter, Ronald Fryer, George Jacobs, and Janice McIntosh.

On our first stop we were honored at the Freshman Party, one of our numerous social events. The committee worked hard and the crew became better acquainted.

Many gala affairs, such as the R. O. T. C., GAMS', Officers', and Cotton Balls, enlivened our voyage.

We sailed into port in June for a two-month vacation and signed up for the next quarter of our voyage.

1948 - 49

We heaved up anchor in September and were once again on our merry way. For the second time we elected our officers:

Skipper — Norman Araujo	Yeoman — Kathleen Riding
First Mate — Earl Smith	Purser — Jane Cooper
Engine Room Crew — Norman Araujo, Betsey Berg, Eleanor Champion, Paul Forand, George Jacobs, Theresa Martel, Janice McIntosh, Sandra Perry, Robert Shapiro.

The top deck men who obtained high honors for their hard work in the previous year were as follows: Janice McIntosh, Betsey Berg, Janet Sherberg, George Broadbent, Herman Hunt.

Among our football aspirants were Robert Chapman, Robert Watkins, Norman Nickerson, Ivan Sylvia, and William Etchells. Although they had few opportunities to show their skill that year, they were to be our mainstays in the coming years. Also, Eleanor Champion was chosen to be a cheerleader.

Many of our shipmates joined the ranks of the R. O. T. C., GAMS, the Girls' and Boys' Choirs, Band, and Orchestra, providing many off-watch pleasures.

Among our most talented musicians were two accomplished pianists, Philip Oliver and Norman Araujo. Philip accompanied the choral groups in their presentations and Norman performed for many auditorium periods.

Once again it was time to return to port for our vacation and upon our arrival we signed up for our next year's cabins and duties.

1949 - 50

Once again we boarded ship. Yes, we were on the second half of our voyage. It almost seemed impossible that time could pass by so quickly. By now, we were old hands at getting squared away and it wasn't long before we set sail.

It was election time again and the crew chose officers:

Skipper — Janice McIntosh	Yeoman — Rona Shuster
First Mate — Marjorie Greaves	Purser — Jane Cooper
Engine Room Crew — Betsey Berg, Eleanor Champion, Paul Forand, Ronald Fryer, Beverley Gerstein, George Jacobs, Janice McIntosh, Alan Novick, Sandra Perry, Gilbert Portnoy, Janet Sherberg.

The number of our top deck men had increased this year and the new members included Jean Cleary, Barbara Horvitz, George Jacobs, Agnes Sylvia, Lloyd Lapham, Dorothy Sorensen, Dolores Correia, and Elinor Arruda.

This was our greatest year in sports. In football, we nearly went over the top but because of one little point, we lost the game to Watertown — and the championship. However, we did beat all of the other rivals and that was a great satisfaction.

The most outstanding player on the team was our own Bob Watkins, who was really something for New Bedford High to be proud of. Bob won national honors for his great work. The rest of the team was something to remember, also. The participants from our class were Ivan Sylvia, Bill Etchells, David Jones, Bob Watkins, Larry Cudish, Fred Ward, and Paul Markey. This year Annemarie O'Leary joined the cheerleading squad.

The main social event this year was, of course, the Junior Prom. On a cold February night, almost all of us third-year men filed into the boys' gym with our escorts. We danced, had refreshments, and, almost before we knew it, it was time to depart.

The other annual dances were held and at the Cotton Ball, our own Beverly Texeira was chosen queen for a night.

At the convention of the Student Councils from all of Southeastern Massachusetts, George Jacobs from our ship was chosen President.

We arrived back at home port in the latter part of June, and once again the crew signed for the last portion of our voyage.

1950 - 51

Up anchor! Set the sails! We were now on the last leg of our cruise. This, to us, was the most important year of all.

When we arrived at port last June, the crew had elected this year's officers as follows:

Skipper — George Jacobs

Yeoman — Elaine Chartier

First Mate — Elizabeth Milliken

Purser — Jane Cooper

In case you haven't noticed, Jane had been elected Purser for the entire four years. Congratulations were in order.

The officers of the Engine Room Crew for this year were all fourth-year men. Chosen were Gilbert Portnoy, president; Ronald Fryer, vice president; Beverly Gerstein, secretary; and Betsey Berg, treasurer. Other members were Norman Araujo, George Broadbent, Elaine Davis, Eleanor Champion, Paul Forand, Lewis Freitas, Raymond Veiera, and Robert Watkins.

The officers of the top deck crew were Norman Araujo, president; Dolores Correia, vice president; Jean Cleary, secretary; Betsey Berg, treasurer. The new members included Beverly Amaral, Henry Barros, Mary Bosteas, Helen Chambers, Carol Davis, Beverly Dayton, Mary Alice Fernandes, Paul Forand, E. Margaret Francis, Celia Freitas, Lewis Freitas, Antoinette Gomes, Jean Gonet, Terrance Goyer, Natalie Ibrahim, Gertrude Lewis, Dolores Lopes, Eleanor Martin, Mary Mello, Elizabeth Milliken, Beverly Mosettig, Alan Novick, Alede Pacheco, Elizabeth Pacheco, Joyce Pimental, June Robert, Edith Rogers, Irene Shubsda, Estelle Shuster, Lucille Silva, Wanda Smietana, Dorothy Soares, Beverly Teixeira, Margaret Travers.

After we were all organized, the first thing on the program was to have individual pictures taken for the class book. Even the faculty had their pictures taken! It was a tough struggle, but they finally consented to it.

Then came the worries of the log-book. The committees worked hard at getting miscellaneous pictures and write-ups; after many months of labor, their goal was achieved and the book was put together and sent to press.

The Steering Committee made all of the collections for the class book, caps and gowns, etc. They also made plans for the Senior Get-Togethers which were held in October and April. At the gatherings we danced, played games, and had refreshments. A good time was had at both parties.

The student body elected Gilbert Barboza to represent our school on Good Government Day in the port of Boston. In March, we had a Student Government Day on which the faculty stepped aside and let the selected crew members prepare work and take over the run of the school for a day. Acting as principal was Norman Araujo; assistant principal on the Commercial side, Gilbert Barboza; assistant principal on the Academic side, Ronald Fryer; and Social Counselor, Dolores Correia. In the morning, the auditorium program was conducted by shipmates and an open discussion on various problems of the crew was held.

Crew members who headed the off-watch activities for 1950-'51 were Barbara Horvitz, French Club; Alan Novick, Debating Club; Elizabeth Milliken, Girls' League; Nancy and Adrian Auger, Tennis; Alzira Souza, Pan-American Club; Sally Ann Holmes, Dramatic Club; Lewis Freitas, Editor, and Beverly Gerstein, Photography Editor for Year Book; and Paul Forand, Editor-in-Chief of Crimson Courier.

The leaders of the GAMS were Major Jean Cleary, Captain Adjutant Carol Davis, and Captains Patricia Tresham, Sylvia Cassidy, and Shirley Bragdon.

The R. O. T. C. leaders were Major Herbert Robinson, Battalion Commander; Major Theodore Small; Major Edmund Richer; Captain Adjutant George Brodbent.

The Student Court Prosecuting Attorney was David White and Paul Forand was Justice.

The featured players in the band were Clinton Taber, Lewis Freitas, and Anthero Nicolau, trumpets; Bob Mello, clarinet; Elaine Chartier and Sandra Perry, French Horns; Gilbert Barboza, trombone; Alan Novick and Arnold Oliveira, tuba; William Appleby and Joan Wunschel, drums.

Recommended by teachers for their proficiency in stenography, typing, and use of business machines, Claudette Blecha, Dorothy Valentine, Phyllis Spiliotis, Alice Fernandes, Elaine Chartier, Joan Dziewit, Anita Balestracci, Helen Teixeira, Ellen Lague, Alede Pacheco, Delores Affonso, Delmar Tavares, Elaine Medeiros, and Jane Cooper were chosen secretaries in the Guidance and Placement Office.

The soloists or selected members of the choirs were Dorothy Sorensen, Anita Balestracci, Marthra Moquin, Adrian Auger and John Price.

Two new clubs introduced in the school that year were the Square Dance Club and Allied Youth. They were not very active, however in their first year.

The Senior men of the football squad were David Jones, Bill Etchells, Anthero Nicolau, George Wright, Fred Ward, Ivan Sylvia, Larry Cudish, and Eurico Rodrigues. The last addition to the cheerleaders from our class was Dolores Correia.

We came back to port early in order to prepare for graduation. The month of June was crammed with excitement. First of all, we got our log books, and the corridors of the school were always cluttered with people signing the books. There were rehearsals for graduation exercises, and committees were making decorations for both the prom and the banquet. That same week many of us attended our first Alumni meeting. There we met many friends who had graduated before us. But the biggest event was still to come.

On Thursday evening, June 21, we filed into the auditorium to the familiar strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," played by the school band. This was both a happy and sad evening for all, for we knew that this may be the last time that we would see some of our three hundred and sixty-nine shipmates. We received our "commissions" and were now on our own to chart a lone voyage to prosperity.

Respectfully submitted,
ELAINE CHARTIER,
Yeoman of Senior Class.

These Things We Remember

How the seniors impressed us when we first entered high . . . the dusty sea shells in the front-corridor cases . . . the Wheaties and cigarettes that changed hands on Award Day . . . "Hup, two, three, four" . . . Bob Watkins' ad libs to the audience during the Allied Youth chartering ceremony . . . the scented soap and linen towels in girls' and boys' rooms . . . the "high water marks" on walls in the commercial division . . . consultations with Miss Shennan . . . the jobs Mr. Thomson found for us . . . "1620, 1776, 1812," etc. . . . birthday parties in the cafeteria . . . "edited" Courier column. . . .

"Are you the curious Count of Monte Cristo?" . . . band trips to Boston . . . the disappointment when assemblies were dull . . . "To be or not to be" . . . Camille to the rescue, to break locks . . . Miss Cady and crusts for the birds . . . standing in line for class rings . . . B. U. Aptitude tests . . . T. B. X-rays . . . the French Table in cafeteria . . . Driver Training course . . . one-way stairways . . . the firecrackers set off in the telephone booth. . . .

Luminous sweaters and socks . . . cheers accompanying broken milk bottles . . . the thrill of Junior Prom . . . Gulf Hill after school . . . digesting lunch and homework in the cafeteria . . . the elevators the upperclassmen directed us to . . . "Where's my picture of you?" . . . Mr. Arey's refusal to be intimidated into shortening his assembly programs . . . how popular "Tom" Moriarty was as a guest at assemblies. . . .

How much Miss Cohen enjoyed the jokes she told . . . Miss Rutter's comparison of us with past classes (not to our advantage, either) . . . Mr. Worden and his economy with school supplies . . . the headaches of trial balances . . . Mr. Whitmarsh's one-question quizzes . . . Miss Blaisdell's autobiographical tales . . . enacting Moby Dick for Miss Morrison's benefit . . . "seventh balcony" in 309 . . . Bugle Corps practice indoors. . . .

The coke business at the basketball games . . . the intriguing listing of "Teacher X" on the program schedules . . . the day some of the football squad almost entered 101 through the glass door-panel . . . Louis Elenterio as a gangster . . . Eleanor Bowler's fondness for dancing minus shoes . . . Miss Newland's efforts to make poets of us . . . the mistletoe at Christmas time . . . Miss Fragosa and her witty remarks . . . the skill we had to acquire to stay on the swinging seats in the cafeteria . . . Honor Society privilege of using the library any time . . . the hokey-pokey at the senior party . . . the effectiveness of Detention Room threats. . . .

Jean Cleary rowing a sinking boat on Long Pond . . . Libby & Harriet with casts and crutches . . . the Art Theatre and Shakespeare . . . Miss Driscoll's Study Halls . . . the terror as Miss Lane's ten-weekers loomed on the horizon . . . where Polly Ann spent Mondays from 2 to 3 . . . "elastic" Courier deadlines . . . precision movement when Mr. Hayden said, "Let's have a film-strip" . . . "a-s-d-f-j-k-l-;" . . . getting lost, heading for Sharon and a Council convention . . . the hostesses and their coffee routine, Luce to Beach to England . . . Mr. Comiskey's gallantry . . . the corny jokes we've so often mentioned to Mr. Trafton . . . Gilbert Barboza's using the amplifying system on Student Government Day . . . the Edaville Railroad. . . .

Norman Araujo's piano solos . . . Mr. Dorman's booming voice . . . the snacks Miss Ryan enjoyed during class . . . the sulphur dioxide experiments that lent such an "air" to the building . . . Mr. Beach's complaints about his teeth . . . Norman Ferland's naps during classes . . . Mr. Hayes' bow ties . . . tennis team trips in Mr. Bergstrom's jalopy. . . .

Paul Forand and Gilbert Portnoy mopping up after basketball games . . . the Esquire appearance of Tom Cotter on Student Government Day . . . Friday afternoons at City Mission . . . Mr. Beach's tough treatment in class . . . Mr. Briggs' witticisms over the amplifying system. . . .

Lining up for cap and gown measurements . . . the thrill of learning that a magazine subscription meant $2 less for a classbook . . . the periodic payments for this, that, and the other thing during senior year . . . our amazement at the size of our class when we lined up for graduation rehearsal . . . the thrill of Senior Prom and Banquet . . . the lumps in our throats on graduation night as we received our diplomas and realized we had come to a fork in the road, and our paths from now on would carry us far apart.

Gift

My harem of heartbroken women
My favorite seat in Detention Room
Student Government Day
All Miss Ryan's Latin homework
To some lucky girl, my place in Mr. Felton's room with all the boys
A couple of broken test tubes to Mr. Bronspiegel
My yellow cards
My unfinished homework
The "mysterious" bag left in my locker
My wonderful brain
My four years of Mr. Arey's teasing
Ten gallons of Hydrogen Sulfide to Miss Skoczulek
The footsteps I've left in the corridors
The rest of the Hags
My false tooth
All the teachers — God bless 'em!
Good luck to the Juniors
All the girls I hate to leave
Rita's wonderful locker (I never had one of my own)
"Tex" Bennett
My ringside seat in 106
My job as Editor in Chief of the Classbook
A fund to enable teachers to retire whenever they tire of us.
My romantic 3rd balcony seat in 309.
The watering pot I used to water Miss Rutter's posies.
All the A's the teachers forgot to give me.
My carefully-kept GAMS records.
A plentiful supply of aspirin for future club secretaries and photography editors.
My battered French Horn to some eager learner.
My end of the line on the cheering squad.
The dubious "honor" of being a captain and thus allowed to handle 4th period traffic.

Gift

A year's supply of red ink to Mr. Bronspiegel — he used all his on the '51 grads.
The gas jet in chemistry that nearly "extinguished" both me and my classmates.
The wonderful friends I made during the four years.
The empty inkwells in study rooms.
The Debating Club treasury.
The headaches of getting copy from Courier writers
The Honor Society gavel
Dark glasses
My seat in the State House on Good Government Day
The handcuffs I wore for my Superlative picture
The privilege of dancing in stocking feet at Senior get-togethers
The captaincy of Company C
The task of supervising cap and gown measurements
My seat in the Athletic Association
A cluttered desk in 128
Four years of acting as class treasurer
The Red Feather
The chance to wander into 102 during Girls' League meetings
The opportunity of arranging next year's panel discussion
My 28 medals
White bucks with chartreuse lacings
My iridescent socks
A mop and pail for future coke salesmen
The Social Committee chairmanship
Friday afternoons at City Mission
The honor of receiving the next Consul-General
My term paper on sailing ships
Dramatic club problems
Locker #6 at Sargent Field and the memories that go with it
All the bad boys and girls for next year's traffic squad to cope with.
To some lucky sophomore, a seat in Miss Sullivan's book-keeping class.
Jersey #28 and smelling salts for the new left tackle.
Pleasant memories of Miss Burke to future seniors.
The "easy" chair from which I supervised 4th period traffic.
My sunlight, air-conditioned locker with luggage compartment.

In testimony whereof we hereunto set our hands this first day of June in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty one.
